RUNNYMEDE'S VICTORY.

HIS FIRST RACE UNDER DWYER COLORS. THE LAST REGULAR DAY OF THE FIRST MEETING-LARGE ATTENDANCE-THE HANDICAP SWEEP-STAKES GIVEN TO AELLA-FIRST SUCCESS OF THE BELMONT STABLE-TROUBLE TAKES THE TROUBLE STAKES.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.] SARATOGA, Aug. 2.—This was the eighth and last regular day of the first meeting, and the programme attracted more than the ordinary attention. The steeplechase is always attractive to the ladies, and may be depended upon to draw them to the course in large numbers. The attendance was very large, and not vacant seat was to be seen in the grand stand. The eather was sultry, however, and showers fell. The racing was capital, and much interest was developed, especially in the Virginia Stakes for two-years-olds, for which George Lorillard's en-tries were great favorites. The swift and tries were great lavories. The switt and staunch filly Memento had to succumb to Runneymede. He is a son of Billet and Mercedes, and he is undoubtedly one of the fastest two-year-olds seen for two years. It was not difficult for him to beat Memento, although she was giving him three ponuds, allowing for difference in sex. The handicap sweepstakes which followed was a gift to Aella, with only 89 pounds. Jack of Hearts won his maiden race in the mile, which was the first victory for Mr. Belmont at the meeting. The last race, the Trouble Stakes, was won over the full course by Trouble, whose honor it was named, but there were many who thought, by the peculiar running of Derby, that there was something wrong. In consequence of the delays in starting the first and third races, the people were kept on the course until nearly 3 o'clock. First Race.—The Virginia Stakes, for two-year-olds, $25 entrance, play or pay, with $500 added, the second receive $150 and the third $50 out of the stakes se not having won a sweepstakes race of the value of $1,000 allowed 3 pounds; maidens allowed 7 pounds; three-quarters of a mile. Starters: Burnham & Sons's blk. g. Carley B., 107 pounds, (Fisher); Pierre Lorillard's b. c. Wyoming, 104 (Shauer); Oden Bowie's ch. g. by Dickens 100; George L. Lorillard's ch. c. Voisia, 103, (Ural), and b. f. Memento, 107 Costello), Mr. Nelson's bik. f. Virg'nia Bush, 100 (Evans), Dwyer Brothers' br. g. Blenheim, 104 (Hughes) and br. c. Runnymede 107 (McLaughlin), and Wm.M.Conner's ch. c. Glenarm , 100 (Donohue). The bet-ting was remarkably heavy, three of the pools selling as foilows: George Lorillard, $550, $900, $1,000; Dwyer Bros., $320, $500, $550; Wyoming, $160, $200, $255 Bros., $320, $500. $500; Wyoming, $160, $200, $200, $250; Beld, $50, $65, $65. The jockeys were figuring for the best of the start, as usual, and there was considerable delay in getting them well together, which severely tried the patience of the spectators. It was 12:40 when the flag finally fell to a very poor start, Memento being in front, Volusia second, Runnymede third, and Blenheim fourth, so that the cracks had it to themselves. As they rushed down the chute Runnymede quickly ran into the second place, and when they turned into the regular track at the half-mile pole Memento had the best of it by a length, with Runnymede second, a length and a half in advance of Wyoming, who was lap ped at the girth by Blenheim, the others being practically out of the race already. As they came around the lower turn Runnymede gained at every stride upon Memento, and the pair ran clear away from the others. Finally Runnymete forced his way half a length in front of Memento, and three lengths back was Wyoming, four lengths ahead of sienacin, who did not run wen, and master Hugaes was using his whip freely upon him. When they turned into the homestretch it was evident that Runnymede had disposed of Memento, and, after passing the furlong pole, Costello drew the whip without avail, and Runnymede beat her home by a length. Six lengths back was Wyoming, who captured the third place from Volusia by a was fifth, and the others came in neck. Virginia Bush was fifth, and the others came in a bunch behind her. The time was 1:1512. The mutuals

T. Howard's b. f. Eddweiss, 4, 92 (Conner), T. B. Davis's b. f. Ella Warfield, 4, 97 (Parker), G. B. Bryson's b. g. Bush-whacker, aged, 95 (Henderson), Spellman & Co.'s br. c. Uberto, 3 years, 92 (F. McLaughlin), and J. J. Mer-rill's b. c. Windrush, 3 years, 97, including 2 pounds over (Brophy). Betting in the pools—Aella $300, Uberto $230, Bushwhacker $75, field $115. In the books—Aella to 5, Uberto 2 to 1, Bushwhacker 5 to 1, Edelweiss 8 to 1, Windrush 8 to 1, Ella Warfield 8 to 1. As the starter dropped his flag the clouds that had been gathering about the course discharged their contents in a heavy downpour of rain, which continued throughout the race. Aella, being quickest on her legs, got off first, with Edel-Aelia, being quickest on her legs, got off first, with Edel-weiss next to her. Aelia immediately set a telling pace, and got down to the half-mile pole with a length the best of Uberto, who was lapped by Edelweiss at the girth. Then four lengths behind was Elia Warfield, six lengths ahead of Bushwhacker, with Windrush in the rear. Aelia made the pace so fast that she strung out the field, and when they came to the judges' stand, thus finishing the first three-quarters, she was a length ahead of Edelweiss, who was two lengths better than Uberto, and he was six lengths away from cker fourth. Ella Warfield fifth, and Windrush sixth. Round the turn to the quarter pole, Aella had in-creased her lead of Edelweiss another length, and the fillies had it to themselves down the backstretch where Edelweiss closed a little, and finally on the lower creased her lead of Edelweiss another length, and the fillies had it to themselves down the backstretch where Edelweiss closed a little, and finally on the lower turn closed up the daylight, and the pair were at it hammer and tongs, both getting the lash freely. At the pool stands it looked as though Edelweiss would win, but Aelia responded to the call made upon her gamely and finally reached the goal first by a neck. Bushwhacker was third, ten lengths behind, Ella, Warfield fourth, Uberto fifth, and Windrush sixth. Time, 3:05. The mutual pools paid $10.70.

Third race—Purse $400, of which $100 to the second, and entrance money—$15 cach—divided between second and third; for maiden three-year-olds; special weights, one mile. Starters—E. G. McElmeel's b. c. General Monroe, 105 pounds (Shauer), E. A. Clabaugh's ch. g. Potomae, 104½, including 2½ over (Holloway) and ch. g. Rob Roy, 102 (Jones), R. H. Owens's br. c. Vici, 105 (Henderson), D. Colaizzi's b. f. Lacy Walker, 100 (Fisher), P. C. Fox's b. f. Maggie Ayer, 100 (Ural), Chas. G. Shaw's br. c. Valentino, 105 (Costello), Morris & Patton's b. g. Explorer, 102 (Bratton), A. Relmont's b. c. Jack of Hearts, 105 (Evans), G. W. Darden's b. c. Bonfire 107, including 2 over (Barbee), E. V. Snedeker's ch. f. Girofia, 100 (McCarthy), and Charles Reed's b. c. Torchlight, 105 (Donmhue). Betting in the pools—Maggie Ayer $100, Lacy Walker $100, Clabaugh's pair $70, Jack of Hearts $75, Explorer $35, the field $75. In the books—Jack of Hearts $75, Explorer $35, the field $75. In the books—Jack of Hearts 2 to 1, Monroe 5 to 1, Lucy Walker 6 to 1, Bonfire 7 to 1, Explorer $8 to 1, Potomae, Rob Roy and Girofia 10 to 1 cach, Vici, Valentino and Torchlight 15 to 1 cach. Enough rain had fallen to lay the dust, which was fortunate for the spectators, as the usual unfortunate delay occurred in numerous attempts to get off. Lucy Walker was particularly wiful and refused to join the horses after each breakmay, and one boy after the other was suspended, Costello getting three days. Final fifth and Bonure sixth. Time, 1:43'4. The "utunal pools paid $12 70.

Fourth race—The Trouble Stakes, a handicap steeple-chase of $50 each, half forfelt, and $10 declaration, with $1,000 added; the second to receive $200 and the third $50 out of the stakes; the full course. Starters—Charles Reed's eb. g. Trouble, aged, 155 pounds (Meany) and ch. b. Disturbance, aged, 155, (Hurley); W. Irving's ch. h. Post Guard, aged, 148 (McBride), and T.A. Lynch's gr. h. Derby, aged, 155 (Sait). Betting—Reed's pair $100, Derby $50. Post Guard $25. In the books—Even against Derby, 5 to 2 ganinst Trouble, 2 to 1 against Destarbance, 5 to 1 against Post Guard. They were started in the field behind the judges' stand, and they moved off very slowly. Derby taking the lead, with Trouble second, Disturbance third and Post Guard fourth. They maintained this order over the north section of the water, Meany pulling Trouble who, however, jumped as light as a bird, winning plenty of applause. After getting into the west field Reed's pair went forward and then the contest ceased, as neither Derby nor Post Guard was in the race afterward. Reed's pair ran closely for the money bet in the books, but Trouble won easily by half a length. Time, 5:56'-2. Derby was ten lengths behind at the finish, and Post Guard a furiong away. Mutanis poid $8.50.

ELECTRIC LIGHT IN THE BOWERY.

HOW IT IS LIKED BY ITS USERS. BILLIARD-PLAYERS SAID TO LIKE IT-ITS EFFECT ON GOLD, SILVER, DIAMONDS AND FLOWERS-HOW READY-MADE CLOTHING LOOKS UNDER IT. In order to ascertain in what estimation the electric light is held by men who have tried it a reporter of The Tribune recently visited a number of places in the Bowery, where it is used probably more than in any other street in the city The Weston, Brush, United States and Arnoux & Hochhausen Companies all furnish lights in that thoroughfare.

hausen Companies all furnish lights in that thoroughfare.

"Sandy" Spencer, at Nos. 300 and 302 Bowery, was the first man visited by the reporter. He has three Brush lights in each of his billiard-rooms and two in the bowling-alley underneath, which were put in about May 1. "I find it nearly as cheap as gas," said Mr. Spencer, "and it is a good advertisement for me." Billiard-players like it for its soft, bright and steady rays. In fact, I did nearly all the business in this neighborhood until my rivals put in the light."

"Does it ever go out?"

order, and I was compelled to use gas. But gas is behind the age, and I am glad I can get along without it."

Eismann & Snyder, who keep a billiard-room also at No. 294, said: "We have three double carbon Brush lights, and think them equal to fifty gas lights. They burn well about six nights in the week, and cost us $2 a night. When they burn steadily the billiard-players like the light, as it is nearly the same as daylight. It does not heat up as much as gas, which is quite a consideration this warm weather. It has got to be the style in billiard rooms, and so we put it in. We have had it here about two weeks."

Hugo Joachunson has two Weston lights in his dry goods store, No. 274, and intends to put in another soon. "It shows goods just like daylight," said Mr. Joachimson, "and displays the colors much better than gas. It costs me about 50 per cent more than gas. I have used the light two months. The first few weeks it went out occasionally, but now it goes smoothly. My customers seem to like it, though a few say it hurts their eyes, I think that is all imagination. My salesmen all like it. It doesn't hurt my eyes."

Mr. Greenbaum has a Brush light in front of his tailor shop, No. 228. "It shows goods better than gas." said he. "Every thread, just like day. I light no gas in my window, as the electric light in front makes the best effect. You see my ceiling there is all blackened up by the use of gas. This light only costs me 80 cents a night. I intend to have three more put inside the store this fall."

Joseph Stiner has two United States lights in his tea store, No. 196, and runs them with his own machine. "We only use them Saturday evenings," said the proprietor, "for about four months of the year. We find them cheaper than gas, and they illuminate the store beautifully without hurting the eyes."

At No. 190 there is a Weston light in front of the door, with six Arnoux & Hochhausen lights inside. The place is a tailor store. Mr. Arnheim, the proprietor said the locativities of the proprietor and the propri

At No. 190 there is a Weston light in front of the door, with six Arnoux & Hochhausen lights inside. The place is a tailor store. Mr. Arnheim, the proprietor, said the electric light displayed his goods as well as dayight. He has an engine and machine to run his lights inside, and finds them about twice as expensive as gas. "Did you ever notice," said he, "that the electric light will make a pure diamond appear dull and lifeless, while it will make glass or paste gems sparkle? I should think that would be an objection to it in jewelry stores."

At Le Moult's greenhouse, Nos. 172 and 174, it was stated that three Weston lights had been used for four weeks, and had given satisaction. Another was to be put in front of the store and one in the yard in the rear. The light showed all kinds of flowers in their true colors, and had the advantage of not radiating heat like gas. The rost was about $1 more a week than gas.

The next place visited was the jewelry store of Rauth & Schloss, No. 188. A member of the firm said: "We had two electric lamps, and put in an $800 six-horse-power engine so as to furnish the electricity ourselves. But the lamps did not burn steadily and acted unsatisfactorily generally. First one would burn brightly and then the other, and then perhaps both would fail. The company said the engine wasn't strong enough; but we used the same engine they had recommended us to get. We would not have minded the expense, if the light had been good, as then there were few persons in the street that used it, and it would have been a good auvertisement. But the light doesn't suit our business anyway. It isn't a vatural light. It makes gold look pale and ghastly as if washed with silver. It makes all kinds of jewels look strange, Gas shows them off much better. We carry a large stock of diamonds, and have got to show them off weell."

stock of diamonds, and have got to show them off well."

The reporter asked him if it was true, as the other dealer had said, that the electric light would enhance the looks of imitation diamonds.

"No, I never noticed it to be so,"
L. Tobias, a jeweller at No. 166, said: "The light flickers a little, but it is generally very good. I have one Brush lamp inside my store and one outside, and have used them two weeks. The light makes no heat and so is a nice thing for summer. It does make gold look a little pale, but has a very fine effect on silver. I never noticed that it made precious stones look deceptive. I think this is the only jewelry store in the city using it at present."

"Do your customers like it?"

"Oh, ves; it doesn't hurt their eyes."

At Miner's Theatre two electric lights are used under the gallery but none near the stage. They are also used on the outside. "We cannot use it on the stage until we can govern it and graduate it as we like," said one of the men in charge. "But it is a fine thing to use in front for an advertisement, and almost every theatre uses it that way."

At Sexton's billiard-rooms five lights are used in the main room, three downstairs and one in front outside. "If they do not act better to-night," said the purpose if it could be relied on. We have men here every night fixing them. They cost more than gas in summer."

At Nicoll the tailor's, a member of the firm said; "We have used electric lights for two years, which shows what we think of them. They show goods just like the san, and for that reason we have a light in our cutting room, so that persons can see their goods by the same light as when delivered. We are using eighteen lamps now, instead of twelve a few weeks ago. They are the United States Company's Maxim lamps, and we run them with our own forty-horse-power engine. We have to have an engine to run 'our sewing-machines, so that the light is cheaper for us than gas. We have no tromble with them; not nearly as much as we used to with frozen gas pipes. The carbons cost only about 15 cents each, and will burn through our longest evening, which is Saturday. When one is burned out we merely have to replace it. We use the Brush light in our Broadway store, and keep the lamps burning as it is narrow and dark. We use it in our San Francisco store, where the light is very popular. Our manager in Chicago has also just written to ask if he shall but it in our store there. I think the electric light is bound to be the popular light as soon as it is perfected so it can be used economically in small rooms."

The speaker took the reporter to see the engine in the cellar, where a lamp was burning. There was apparently very little difference between the light of the lamp in the rear and the sunlight which streamed in the front window.

The manager of the London and Liverpool Clothing Company, at No. 90, had some original ideas on the electric light. He has five Weston lights in

The manager of the London and Liverpool Clothing Company, at No. 90, had some original ideas on the electric light. He has five Weston lights in front of the store, but has noticed that people do not like to stop and stand there. "It isn't a nice light," he said; "that is, I don't think it a good light. I do not doubt that it is the coming light, but I will be the very last man to adopt it?"

"But why have it outside your store?"

"Oh, just to attract persons. They say, 'Whew, that concern must do a big business; look what expense!" I am thinking of covering the front of the store with lights. But I wouldn't have it inside. We have to sell cheap goods, with some cotton in them. We tell our customers so, of course. We do not misrepresent. But this electric light makes such goods look wretched, while the gaslight makes them appear rich. Why, it fades goods, especially blue goods. I won't let it shine in my windows, It's a good light to nail at the masthead on a dark night, but it will never do for domestic purposes. It shows all the old ladies' wrinkles and all the young ladies' paint."

THE DEMAND FOR IMMIGRANT LABOR.

Notwithstanding the falling off in immigration in the last month, Superintendent Jackson, at Castle Garder, says the demand for laborers and other help still continues large, but that there is less difficulty in supplying the demand, as a larger propertion than usual of the immigrants now arriving is in want of employment. There has been a great demand for tarm hands, and a large number has been sent to farms in various parts of the State. Wages for farm laborers have declined in the last week from $18 and $20 a month and board to $15 and $18 a month and board.

from $18 and $20 a month and board to $15 and $18 a month and board.

Blanton Duncan, who recently purchased 2,300 acres of land in Texas, writes to Mr. Jackson that he desires to engage immigrant labor but is not willing to pay more than $13 a month and board; nor will he advance the passage money for such immigrants. Mr. Jackson does not think it possible at present to get men for him, as better terms can be obtained nearer New-York. A letter was also received yesterday from Dr. Edward M.Boyken, State Superintendent of Emigration of South Carolina, who sent money to defray the expenses of sending five German families to Columbia, S. C. He writes that the immigrants who have recently settled in South Carolina are in every way satisfactory to those employing them, and that the immigrants themselves are contented in their new homes. The warm weather and change of climate has had no apparent effect on their health. He believes that a thousand families could be satisfactorily settled in South Carolina before January 1,1882, if he could get them. The passage money is advanced to the immigrants, and the general wages paid are $10 a month and board.

TESTING THE TORPEDO RAM. THE ALARM RUNS OVER HER COURSE THREE TIMES

-OPINIONS OF ENGINEERS.

THE ALARM RUNS OVER HER COURSE THREE TIMES

—OPINIONS OF ENGINEERS.

The experiments with the Alarm at Yonkers have been interfored with by the "fosming" of the boilers, but her drain pipes have now been altered so as to give dry steam, and yesterday the ram was run over the six-mile course three times, under the supervision of the board appointed by the Government for making the experiment. The highest speed attained was eleven knots an hour. In doing this the engines made fifty-six revolutions a minute, and the pressure of steam was seventy-five pounds. The super heaters gave forty degrees, thus furnishing very dry steam. The only trouble was with the condensers, which did not work satisfactorily, there being a leak evidently.

Commander A. Mensing, naval attache to the German Legation, was among the persons on board of the Alarm during the trial, and he expressed himself very much pleased with the working of the Mallory propeller. He said to a reporter of The Triburs that he did not doubt that the apparatus would be a success for vessels of the size of the Alarm. The different members of the board also expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied with the workings of the propeller. But in regard to the ability of the Alarm to make twelve knots an hour, the speed desired, there was much difference of opinion. Mr. Isherwood, senior engineer of the United States Navy and chief of the board, said:

"I think we shall be able to get the required speed, if the trouble with the condensers is stopped and better coal is burned. We have been using very poor coal and the pressure of steam has been very much reduced by the leak in the condenser. If we can get ninety pounds of steam, we will probably get the desired speed."

Other members of the board doubted that the boilers of the Alarm could furnish enough steam to make the speed desired, but they admitted that with batter coal she might do it. To-morrow the vessel will take in a supply of Cumberland coal and the defect in the condensers will be remedied. She will then

THE NEW COLLECTOR'S SECOND DAY. THE NEW COLLECTOR'S SECOND DAY.

Collector Robertson received many visitors yesterday and among them were not a few who were applicants for office. No changes were made yesterday, and it is improbable that any will be made for some time. The most of the visitors were personal and political friends of the new Collector, who called merely to pay their respects to him. Prominent among them was United States Senator-elect Warner Miller, who was accompanied by John Vrooman, clerk of the State Senate. There were also Senator Forster, Congressman Hill, of New-Jersey; Thomas C. Acton, Superintendent of the Assay Office; Collector Smith, of Bangor, Maine; Police Commissioner Mason, ex-Judge Henry E. Davies, J. S. Millard, Thomas Leary, A. W. Tenney, Dr. Fessenden, Howard Potter, William A. Darling and Ellwood E. Thorne, General Merritt was also at the Custom House a part of the day.

A committee of laborers at the public stores, appointed at the meeting Monday evening at Germania Hail, waited upon the Collector and presented their protest against doing the work by contract. A petition was presented to the Collector, in which he was asked to use his influence against the return to the contract system. In reply the Collector said that he had no authority in the matter; that the Secretary of the Treasury alone was empowered to make the change. He said also that the action of the laborers might be too late, for the Secretary had probably taken decisive action. The members of the committee expressed their sorrow at the result.

Collector Robertson's private secretary, Joseph Barrett, was engaged all day in attending to the wishes of callers who were not admitted to an andience with the Collector. He entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office Monday. A committee of laborers at the public stores, ap-

HARBOR INTERESTS PROTECTED.

The meeting of the Plot Commissioners yesterday was principally occupied in the investigation of a complaint filed by James Harkins, fireman on board of the British steamship Powhatan, who made an affidavit that Chief Engineer F. Boyesen, of the Powhatan, discharged May last a large quantity of ashes in the North River. The testimony was so conflicting that the case was adjourned until the next meeting. It was shown that Harkins was imprisoned while the vessel was in Rio Janeiro for misconduct and intoxication on board the Powhatan, and he was charged with making the complaint through malice. Resolutions were adopted requiring the removal of a wreck in the Harlem River, about 200 yards from McComb's Dang Bridge; also a wreck from near the abutiments of the New-York City and Northern Railroad Bridge over the Harlem River. Ralph Nobles, one of the Produce Exchange interested in cheese dealing will meet at No. 33 Pearl-st, Thesiay next, to consider important amendments for the Harlem River. TROUBLE IN A STREET CAR.

Thomas Wheen, a conductor on car No. 313 of the Lexington Avenue street-ears, appeared in the Yorkville Police Court yesterday morning as complainant against James Reddy, of No. 349 East Twenty-third-st. Wheen testified that Monday right Reddy boarded his car in the upper part of the city. He was intoxicated, and insisted on putting his feet on the seat. He abused Wheen when remonstrated with, and made himself generally a nuisance to the passengers. Wheen attempted to get him off the car several times, but did not succeed. At Twenty-second-st, Reddy jumped off, and, as the car was passing him, a ruck one of the passengers, and then ran down Twenty-second-st. Wheen stopped his car and gave chase. A policeman joined in the pursuit and caught Reddy near Second-ave. When stopped, Reddy pulled out an ugly looking knife, which he attempted to use on the policeman, who, in the struggle to get the weapon, had his hands badly cut. Reddy was finally overpowered and taken to the station. Justice Murray fined him $10 yesterday and put him under $1,000 bonds to the Island for six months.

THE DREADED BICYCLE.

THE DREADED BICYCLE.

The case of the bicycle riders and manufacturers against the Park Commissioners went on yesterday morning before the referee, E. L. Parris. Assistant Corporation Counsel Townsend soems to be in no hurry to end the case. His witnesses come straggling in when they please, and at the end of every hearing for some time an adjournment has been had because witnesses who were expected have failed to arrive. Two witnesses testified yesterday—Charles A. Cusinman, who related how a horse that he was driving last. June took fright at a bicycle and spilied hunself and a young woman into the street; and Nathaniel Huggin, who had often seen horses shy at bicycles, and whose carriage had nearly been overturned by his own horses taking fright. After waiting half an hour for a witness the referee appointed the next hearing for Tuesday, August 9, at 11 o'clock.

FIGHTING IN A CEMETERY.

FIGHTING IN A CEMETERY.

The Wratcher brothers, of Woodhaven, L. I., went to the Jewish Cemeter, on the Bay Ridge road Sunday morning, to set a small monument. While at work, two brothers, Charles and Henry Johnson, ordered them to stop work. The Wratchers refused, and the four men began to fight, using pickaxes and stones. In the fight Charles Johnson was struck over the left temple with a pick by one of the Wratchers. Johnson was taken to his home in an unconscious state, and yesterlay the physicians had no hope of his recovery. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the Wratchers, but as yet the constables have been unable to find them.

MR. CAMPBELL'S GOODS STILL ATTACHED. MR. CAMPBELL'S GOODS STILL ATTACHED.

Justice Donohue, in the Supreme Court, Chambers, rendered vesterday a decision refusing to vacate the attachment obtained by Mary Aun Campbell in her suit against her husband, Walter Campbell, to recover $55,000, the value of certain railway stock alleged to have been wrongfully taken by him from her strong box in the Safe Deposit Company, and converted to his own use. Justice Donohue says that the issues raised by the papers in the case are proper to be tried by a jury, and that he does not feel authorized on the affidavits before him in vacating the attachment.

NEARLY MURDERED IN HIS OWN HOUSE. TRAMPS ASSAIL A DEFENCELESS WOMAN AND AT-TACK HER HUSBAND COMING TO HER RESCUE.

TRAMPS ASSAIL A DEFENCELESS WOMAN AND ATTACK HER HUSBAND COMING TO HER RESCUE.

Three rudians attacked Daniel Shea in front of his own house at No. 9 Mulberry-st., yesterday forenoon at half past 11 o'clock, and stabbed him half a dozen times. Only one of the three was arrested. Nos. 5, 7 and 9 Mulberry-st., a row of tall tenementhouses, have been condemned and vacated by the order of the Board of Health. Shea, who runs an elevator at No. 176 Worth st., lives with his wife in the bouse, the front door of which is usually kept locked, and takes care of the premises.

Yesterday in Shea's absence three tramps made their way into the yard. When seen and ordered out by Mrs. Shea, they followed her to her room on the first floor and breaking in the doors, assailed her with bricks and paving stones. They beat and abused the helpless woman shamefully. Her cries for help were heard by a man in the street, who ran to inform her husband. Shea hastened home and encountered the three tramps at his own door. He seized the first one and shouted for a policeman. The fellow, finding his efforts to free himself in vain, whipped out a knife and plunged it six times into Shea's arms and body. His companions fled. At the sixth blow the would-be murderer tore himself away, but one of the sleeves of his woollen shirt remained in Shea's hands. The fellow ran up Mulberry-st. pursued by an excited crowd, and he was soon overtaken and disarmed. He was taken to the Mulberry Street Station and an ambulance took Daniel Shea to St. Vincent's Hospital. Two of his wounds were in the side and are dangerous; the other four were in the arm and back. The surgeons gave good hope of his recovery. The prisoner, who said his name was James A. Wells, age twenty-three, a plumber, of No. 248 Madisonst, was held on a charge of felonious assault. A denial of the charge was useless, for Shea when brought into the police station yet clutched the sleeve of Wells's shirt, which he had torn off in the struggle. Detectives were sent to look for the two tramps wh tramps who escaped.

WORK OF THE SANITARY INSPECTORS.

The sanitary inspectors visited last week 4,791 tenement-houses, containing 23,823 families, and prescribed for 1,038 patients. They distributed 992 free excursion tickets. Nearly all the patients were children There were thirty-seven smallpox patients and iffy typhus fever sufferers in the Riverside Hospital yesterday. The disinfecting corps reported that it had disinfected last week 136 miles of street, 222 yards, 260 cellars and 3,992 vanits. The Mayor has suggested in a letter to President Chandler that the wages of laborers in the employ of the department be advanced 10 per cent. Professor Waller, the chemist of the Board of Health, reported the result of his examination of the water contained in twenty eight wells in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. Only ten stood the test as "good"; three are described as doubtful, six as unsafe and seven as very unsafe. Veterinary Surgeon Liantard reported that a horse had died of supposed glanders at No. 418 Delancey-st.

had died of supposed glanders at No. 418 Delancey-st.

The Health Board ordered yesterday that the lodging-house at No. 61 Thompson-st. be closed as dangerous to life and health. Between April 8 and July 21 twenty two cases of undoubted typinas fever were removed from the house to the Riverside Hospital, and several of doubtful character. Assistant Sanitary Superintendent Janes declared that the danger was great that the house would become a fever seat of the worst description, with the return of cold weather and the tramps. It was formerly a primary school, and has, since it became a lodging-house, been the rendezvous of tramps.

PERUVIANS WITH CONCEALED ARMS.

Angust Garcia, age twenty-two, and Antonio Garcia, nineteen years old, natives of Peru, two well-dressed young men, at present boarding in West Fourteenth-st, were taken yesterday morning before Justice Morgan, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, Antonio Garcia being charged with carrying a concealed weapon, and August Garcia with disorderly conduct. About 2:30 yesterday morning the brothers, who were, it is alleged, under the influence of liquor, stopped to talk with a young woman in Sixth-ave, near Thirtieth-st. In the conversation the younger brother became greatly excited and drawing a sword-cane flourished it in the air, acting as if he intended to run the girl through the body. The elder brother grappled with him and endeavored to wrest the weapon from his hand. A man who had witnessed the occurrence ran down the avenue and called a policeman, who hastened to the scene and took both brothers in custody. Young Garcia teld Justice Morgan that he did not know he was violating the law in carrying a sword-cane, as nearly everyone went armed in his native country. The magistrate fined them $10 each, and as they had not the money one or them left a gold watch and chain with a man who advanced it. It was stated by the court officers that the young men are the sons of ex-President Garcia, of Peru, but neither of them would tell anything about himself while in court. inform the buyer that he declines to accept such rejec-tion. He may call then in an examining committee, composed of three members of the trade, which shall at once inspect the cheese in dispute and give its decision in waiting, which decision shall be final. In all cases where cheese is sold to arrive, it must be accepted or re-jected within six business hours after notice of arrival. If the buyer fails to examine it within that time the seller is to have the right to call for an appointment of a committee to examine the goods as to whether they are a good delivery under the contract, in which case, should the buyer refuse to accept the same, the seller may then dispose of the goods on account of the buyer. Any person selling imitation or adulterated cheese shall impart full information as to the character of file goods. Any omission to impart such information or any misrepresentation on the part of the seller shall render such sale null and void, and the seller shall be liable to the buyer for any loss he may sustain in the transaction.

CHIEF VAN BUSKIRK'S BAD JUDGMENT,
At a regular meeting of the Common Council of the city of Bayonne held in Centreville last evening, a communication was read from the Mayor with regard to the charges made by Father Killeen against Chief of Police Van Buskirk. The communication declared that the testimony taken July 26 does not sustain the accusation that the Chief of Police received $25 for the purpose of settling a charge of assault and battery; but does, on the contrary, show that the papers in the case of Kennedy were allowed to pass through their legitimate channel to the Grand Jury.

The Mayor further says in the same communication that though Chief Van Buskirk seem to have received the money merely to pay it out again without any culpable design, the transaction was one in which a public officer had no business to be concerned. He therefore publicly condemns and censures Hiram Van Buskirk for lack of judgment, but excuses him from the charge of any criminal motive. CHIEF VAN BUSKIRK'S BAD JUDGMENT.

BROUGHT TO TERMS BY SHOT-GUNS. BROUGHT TO TERMS BY SHOT GUNS, John Van Buskirk and Edward Van Buskirk, two brothers who live beside a dock not far from Bergen Point, N. J., saw a boat approach the dock Monday night in a stealthy fashion, which aroused their suspicions. Arming themselves with a brace of shot-guns, the Van Buskirks went down to the water's edge, where they discovered two men helping themselves liberally to old iron. They hailed the robbers, who at once took to their boat and pushed out into the bay. The shot-guns were brought into requisition, upon which the terrified tieves plunged into the river. At the discharge of a second barret they shonted for mercy and swam to the shore, where they were handed over to the police. They gave their names as Thomas Burns

LOCKED UP FOR STEALING A DOG.

Michael Eagap, a licensed dog catcher, was arrested July 7, charged by George R. Blandehard, of No. 16 Fifth-ave, with stealing from his house a dog valued at $60. The dog was on the stoop of the house, and was in care of a nurse grf. Eagan, whose license does not allow him to catch dogs in that district, was accompanied by another man. The two approached the stoop and by clapping their hands frightened the dog so that he ran into the street. Eagan chased it and catching it gave it to his companion, who ran away with it. Mr. Blanchard came along at the time and caught Eagan, and subsequently handed him over to a policeman. In the Court of General Sessions yesterday Eagan was tried and convicted of petit larceny. Recorder Smyth sentenced him to one month's imprisonment in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10. LOCKED UP FOR STEALING A DOG.

James Fitzpatrick, the messenger boy who so mysteriously disappeared Monday with $14,000 in checks belonging to Mattheissen & Mechens, the sugar refiners of Jersey City, returned home Monday night, having all the checks in his possession. He said he went in the clevated railroad train to Harlem to avoid two men who were following him in a suspicious and menacing manner. Mr. Mattheessen said yesterday he believed the boy returned because he found it impossible to negotiate any of the checks. The boy was not regularly in the employ of the firm, but was acting as a substitute for his brother, who is away on his vacation.

A CHILD BORN IN A STREET CAR. Catherine Brown, age twenty, of Hackensnek, gave brtih to a child yesterday in a Bleecker-st, car, at Fulton Market. She was attended by Dr. Chapin and sent to the Chambers Street Hospital as speedily as possible. The child so unceremoniously ushered into the world was a girl.
